To The Honorable David M. Beasley, Governor of South Carolina, to the Honorable Members of the General Assembly, and the citizens of South Carolina

An annual report from this agency is no longer required by the General Assembly. However, board members and staff of the State Library continue to believe these reports serve a valuable purpose in the chronicle of events, evaluation of programs and planning for the future. It is with pleasure that this summary of the 1997-98 activities of the State Library is submitted.

A highlight of 1997-1998 involved DISCUS, an electronic library of essential information resources, which was initiated as a pilot program funded by the federal Library Services and Technology Act in 1998. The South Carolina State Library coordinates the DISCUS project. Details about this system are included in the following report. Members of the State Library Board and staff worked hard to inform members of the legislature about the value of the program resulting in the state funding of DISCUS for 1999. This effort is in keeping with one of the primary goals of the State Library which is to make information equally available to all citizens of the state.

Another development was the official notice that the State Library would occupy the former Archives and History Building. The State Library has begun planning for occupation of the building.

The State Library staff continued training in the use of Internet and DISCUS to public library staff and government agencies. A staff member served as liaison for the Friends of the Library, a growing support group for libraries. Schnects at the library, a marketing program was begun and bibliographies targeting certain groups were published. The State Library also played an important role with the Governor's Information Resource Council.

The State Library is an active, efficient agency of fering essential services. As you review this report, we hope you will give us your questions and suggestions about our work throughout the state.

Respectfully submitted,

Margaret J. Bundy Chairman

I. GOVERNANCE/MISSION STATEMENT

Statutory authority for the South Carolina State Library is provided by Title 60, Chapter 1 of the Code of Laws of South Carolina. Originally authorized in 1929 and known as the State Library Board, the public library extension agency was first funded in 1943. It was redesignated the South Carolina State Library with a broad range of responsibilities by Act 464 of 1969. The legislation was recodified and new functions were authorized by Act 178 of 1985.

The South Carolina State Library is an independent state agency governed by a board of seven members appointed by the Governor, with one member from each Congressional District and one from the state at large. Members serve five-year terms and may be reappointed. The Director, who is responsible for the operation of the agency, is appointed by and is responsible to the State Library Board.

The South Carolina State Library's mission is to improve library services throughout the state and to ensure all citizens access to libraries and information resources adequate to meet their needs. The State Library supports libraries in meeting the informational, educational, cultural, and recreational needs of the people of South Carolina.

To accomplish this mission the South Carolina State Library has identified five strategic issues to meet the needs of the people of South Carolina:

- Identify, organize, develop, maintain, and make accessible informational resources and services to meet the needs of the people of South Carolina.
- Provide statewide programs to support improved local library services.
- Serve as the advocate for libraries in South Carolina.
- Encourage cooperation among libraries of all types.
- Continuously improve State Library operations and services.

II. HISTORY

At the urging of citizens interested in quality county-wide library service, the General Assembly passed legislation in 1929 establishing the State Public Library Association and a State Library Board composed of five citizens. In the depths of the Great Depression, no funds were appropriated for the library extension agency, but grants from the South Carolina Library Association and the Rosenwald Foundation enabled the State Library Board to employ a field agent from 1929 to 1932 to assist communities interested in the development of public library service.

II. (cont'd)

The first statewide library program was carried out under the Works Project Administration from 1935 to 1943. The WPA's major objective was to provide each county of the state some measure of area-wide public library service. The WPA library program helped establish library service in some areas and enhanced existing libraries' operations in others. The WPA program made possible the establishment of bookmobile service in twenty-three counties formerly without rural library service. At its demise in 1943, the WPA had been successful in creating public library service in some form in all counties.

The State Library Board received its first appropriation of $3,000 in 1943 and inherited the assets of the WPA. The State Library Board initiated its program with emphasis on State Aid to public libraries and a goal of statewide public library service. County or regional libraries were established in all forty-six counties. The pattern of unified library systems, each legally established and governed by a single library board, made possible a good level of service by eliminating expensive duplication and overhead and by sharing resources and personnel.

When the federal Library Services Act was passed in 1956, the State Library Board, by executive order of the Governor, was charged with administering and implementing within the state the library programs authorized in the Act. Through this Act, the agency's functions were expanded to include service to the blind and physically handicapped, development of library service in state institutions, and interlibrary cooperation.

In 1969, as the result of action by the General Assembly, the State Library Board was redesignated as the South Carolina State Library and assumed responsibility for public library development, library service for state institutions, service for the blind and physically handicapped, and library service to state government agencies. In 1985, an act was passed providing for the recodification of the State Library's legislation. The new legislation reauthorized all functions of the State Library and consolidated a variety of authorizations found in state and federal laws and regulations, executive orders and budget provisos.

After 40 years, Congress replaced the Library Services & Construction Act with the Library Services & Technology Act. This new legislation encouraged state libraries to develop programs which utilize telecommunications and other technologies to make information available to library users regardless of the type of library used. During its first year (FY 98) the State Library created DISCUS – South Carolina's Virtual Library, which provided online access to a wide range of information services to users of public libraries and academic libraries. State funding was approved by the General Assembly to extend this service to schools as well in FY 99.

III. ORGANIZATION/OPERATIONS

A. Organization

The director, who is responsible for the operation of the South Carolina State Library, is appointed by and is responsible to the Board of the State Library. The director is assisted by a deputy director. The work of the library is carried out by six departments. A brief description of each follows.

- 1. Administrative Services. Provides support services in the areas of budgeting, financial management, personnel, procurement, public relations, secretarial and clerical support, and facilities management.
- 2. Blind and Handicapped Services. Provides library service to the blind and physically handicapped in cooperation with the Library of Congress, National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped. Reading materials are provided in special formats (recorded, large print, and braille). The service is free, as is the loan of equipment necessary to listen to the recorded materials.
- 3. Library Development. Provides consultant services to public and state institutional libraries to further the development and improvement of library services statewide. Administers state and federal grants-in-aid programs.

- 4. Reader Services. Coordinates DISCUS South Carolina's Virtual Library. Provides research services to state government agencies. Provides statewide reference and interlibrary loan service to supplement local library resources. Coordinates the South Carolina State Documents Depository System.
- 5. Network Services. Operates the South Carolina Library Network through the maintenance of a computer-based library network and communications system which facilitates sharing of library resources and services.
- 6. Technical Services. Acquires, catalogs, classifies, and makes available all materials used in the library program. Maintains the library's database.

III. D. Highlights

FY98 can arguably be considered the South Carolina State Library's busiest and most productive year in its history. The accomplishments of staff this past year are staggering.

Public libraries continued to be connected to the Internet under a joint project of the State Library and the Office of Information Resources, State Budget and Control Board. More than one half of the state's public library sites are connected. When completed this calendar year, South Carolina will be the first state to our knowledge to have all of its public sites connected to the Internet. Each site will have at least two public access personal computers.

Internet connectivity is a prerequisite for participation in a major State Library initiative designed to provide statewide access to informational databases. Using federal Library Services and Technology Act funds, the State Library in January 1998 launched DISCUS—South Carolina's Virtual Library. Participants in this pilot year included all public libraries, libraries in institutions of higher education, and three K-12 school districts. DISCUS databases were selected by committees of librarians throughout the state. They provide a level of information equity statewide that was not previously possible. The State Library received a state appropriation of $1.5 million in FY99 to cover the costs of DISCUS and to add all 86 school districts as participants.

The State Library continues to take a proactive role in providing training for public library staffs and state agency researchers in utilizing the Internet.

South Carolina Public Library Standards 1998 were published by the State Library. These standards were developed by a committee of public library and State Library staff. Since these new standards stress the importance of long-range planning and the evaluation of services in achieving excellence, they should provide the cornerstone for future public library development in South Carolina.

Effective reading skills are critical to enhancing the lives of all South Carolina citizens. The State Library partners with a number of agencies to improve library services statewide and to foster reading as a lifelong activity.

These accomplishments could not have been made without the support of a strong, dedicated staff. The State Library staff consistently goes the extra mile in providing quality informational services to its constituents. They are well respected by all they serve.

IV. LIBRARY SERVICES

A. Services to State Government

The State Library provides library and information services for the General Assembly, state officers and agencies, and state government employees. To carry out its defined mission, the State Library provides a highly skilled research and technical staff as well as a well-developed library collection to assist state government officials and employees with their information needs.

Services to state government include:

- Staff of research librarians who conduct research and answer information requests for state employees to help them perform their jobs.
- Free loan of library materials, including books, journals, government publications, videotapes, and audiocassettes to state employees.
- Interlibrary loan service to locate and borrow publications that state employees need which are not contained in the State Library's collection.
- Special presentations and training programs for state government agencies and employees to inform them of the services and resources of the library as well as electronic information resources on the Internet. Hands-on training conducted in a fully equipped training facility at the State Library.
- Computerized access to the library's catalog, LION, FEDCAT, a catalog of U.S. government publications dating from 1976 to the present, and to information databases containing the full-text of many journal articles on a wide variety of topics.
- Electronic database searches through CD-ROM products and computerized information vendors.
- State Library web site providing information on the State Library, other S.C. libraries, and S.C. in general.
- Electronic reference service that allows state employees to place information requests via e-mail.
- Database management services to catalog, classify, process, and create electronic catalogs of materials held in collections at state agencies.
- Centralized collection, storage, and preservation of official printed state agency publications through the South Carolina State Documents Depository System.

IV.A (cont'd)

- Preparation of bibliographies and lists of library materials on special topics of interest to state government.
- Public Internet workstations for connecting rapidly to the Internet.

- New Resources, a bi-monthly publication sent to over 500 state employees, to alert them to recent publications available at the State Library.
- Document delivery of library materials to state employees via the state's Interagency Mail Service.

Statistics on use of the State Library by state government officials and employees from July 1, 1997 to June 30, 1998:

- 17,074 research questions answered for state government employees.
- 7,637 directional and assistance queries answered.
- 52,292 library materials circulated to state government employees.
- 29,182 state government employees and SC citizens visited the library.
- 5,149 state government employees registered as borrowers.
- 1,177 titles borrowed on interlibrary loan for state government employees.
- 456 videos and films booked and checked out to state government employees for both training purposes and individual use.
- 54 training and orientation programs conducted, reaching 691 state employees.

B. Interlibrary Loan Service

The State Library provides reference and interlibrary loan service to supplement the local resources of South Carolina libraries. Since no single library can meet all of the diverse research needs of its patrons, the collections of the State Library have been developed as a source upon which local libraries can draw to make information and materials available to South Carolinians in their own communities. The State Library also lends materials upon request to other libraries throughout the country.

IV. B. (cont'd)

Statistics on use of the State Library's Interlibrary Loan Service from July 1, 1997 to June 30, 1998:

- 27,408 requests processed from libraries.
- 22,549 title requests for books and articles handled.
- 3,862 research requests answered for public and state institutional libraries.
- 997 alternative library locations determined for requested materials that were not available from the State Library's collection.
- 2,095 calls from SC public and state institutional libraries to the State Library's toll-free reference hotline answered.
- 28,565 titles circulated to libraries.
- 52 training and orientation programs conducted for South Carolina libraries, reaching 1,017 library employees.
- 19,318 books and articles supplied to South Carolina public libraries for citizens in the state.
- 1,324 videos and films booked for libraries in the state.
- 3,375 books and articles supplied to academic libraries in South Carolina for students and faculty.
- 572 books and articles supplied to state institutional libraries for staff, patients, and inmates.
- 844 books and articles supplied to special libraries in South Carolina for their employees.
- 3,441 books and articles supplied to selected school libraries in South Carolina for students and teachers.
- 1,015 books and articles supplied to other libraries outside South Carolina.
- 191,448 visits to the SConnects website from public library users.

C. State Documents Depository System

The South Carolina State Library administers the State Documents Depository System which ensures local access to state government publications. Major points of the program are:

- State agencies/institutions supply 15 copies of publications to the State Library.
- The State Library catalogs and processes publications and retains 3 copies for its permanent collection. 1 copy is distributed to each of the 11 participating in-state depository libraries and 1 copy to the Library of Congress.

The eleven affiliate depository libraries which receive publications through this program include 9 university and 2 county libraries:

Clemson University

Coastal Carolina University
 Spartanburg County Library

• College of Charleston

• Francis Marion University

• USC-Aiken

USC-Beaufort

• South Carolina State University • Greenville County Library

Winthrop University

Lander University

State Documents activities in 1997/98 included:

- Selection of the 10 most notable print state publications of 1997 and, for the first time, a notable web site. Awards were made to recipient agencies on March 1998.
- The South Carolina Information Forum was held May 7, 1998, in the Bostick Auditorium at Richland County Public Library. The forum focused on state government information resources.
- Site visit to the College of Charleston.

FY 98 marked the 16th year of the South Carolina State Documents Depository System, following passage of the State Documents Depository Act in 1982.

D. DISCUS – South Carolina's Virtual Library

Statewide online database access became a reality during the year. DISCUS – South Carolina's Virtual Library is designed to provide all South Carolinians with access to an electronic library of essential information resources. These resources are available to every citizen of the state, ensuring equity of access regardless of where people live. Libraries and educational institutions across the state serve as the service and delivery point for DISCUS.

IV. D. (cont'd)

The State Library established a DISCUS pilot project for January-December 1998, using funding obtained through the federal Library Services and Technology Act. The project was developed during the previous year's planning and consensus building among the state's library community. Based on statewide database evaluations, a one-year license agreement was negotiated with Information Access Company (IAC). The license provided all public libraries and higher education institutions with four Internet-accessible full-text periodical and reference databases. In anticipation of future expansion of DISCUS to all K-12 schools, three public school districts were also included in the pilot project: Calhoun, Horry and Rock Hill (York) Three. The DISCUS databases cover general interest information, academic topics, business topics, and health and medical information, and are accessible from all Internet PCs at the participating institutions. Additionally, the license allowed college and public libraries with certain technical capabilities to provide their users with access to the databases from their homes.

By the close of the fiscal year, 96 of the 103 eligible institutions were providing their users on-campus/in-library access to the DISCUS databases. The remaining seven institutions were still in the process of establishing their Internet connections. A dozen institutions were also providing their users with DISCUS access from their homes. Vendor-supplied training sessions reaching over 400 librarians were facilitated at locations across the state.

Early feedback from participants indicated that the project had been very effective in providing citizens with information resources that were not previously available to them. Preliminary usage statistics showed impressive and growing use of the databases as institutions gradually began to offer DISCUS access. Users retrieved over 460,000 full-text articles or abstracts during the first six months of the project.

During the 1998 legislative session, the State Library requested $1.5 million in state funds to expand the DISCUS database offerings and extend the program to all K-12 schools. With the General Assembly's approval of this request, planning was immediately begun for the 1999 calendar year. School librarian involvement was sought to determine school database needs. Cooperative links were established with key SC Department of Education staff. Negotiations were begun for a 1999 IAC database license renewal that included additional databases appropriate for school children and teachers. Despite having only reached the midpoint of its pilot period, DISCUS has already improved South Carolinians' access to information.

E. Library Services to the Blind and Physically Handicapped

IV. E. (cont'd)

The State Library's Department of the Blind and Physically Handicapped (DBPH), in cooperation with the Library of Congress, National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped (NLS), provides free reading materials to any legal resident of the state who is unable to read or use conventional print materials due to a visual or physical limitation. Qualifying conditions include, but are not limited to:

blindness

learning disabilities

double vision

palsy

multiple sclerosis

Collection: Reading materials in special media—cassette, large print, braille, and disc—are available in all subject areas for all age groups. The National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped provides books and magazines in braille, recorded disc, and cassette formats; playback equipment and accessories; promotional materials; and support materials such as bibliographies, reference circulars, catalogs and fact sheets. The State Library provides staff, facilities, operating costs, and a supplemental collection of books in large print, and a descriptive video collection (nonverbal and visual cues are described by narrators) consisting of 159 titles. Braille service is provided through contract services with the North Carolina State Library. At the end of FY 98, there were 265 registered braille readers.

FY98 Total book stock by format

Hard discs 10,197 Flexible discs 26,449 Large print 14,761 Cassettes 280,493

Approximately 70 recorded and braille magazines are made available through a nationwide mailing service. Additional recorded magazines are available through volunteer narrator programs of network libraries. A total of 13,066 copies of volunteer produced cassette magazines circulated in FY 98.

Patron Services: Materials are loaned and returned to DBPH by postage-free mail to all registered readers. Reader advisory service is also provided. An average of 106 new applications were processed per month in FY98. Total registered readers increased by 3% over FY97.

FY98 Total registered readers:

Adult readers 7,111
Juvenile readers 497
Institutional readers 2,538*
Total registered readers 10,146

IV. E. (cont'd)

Circulation for all media including recorded magazines and DVS tapes was 273,993 in FY98.

^{*}Based on the NLS formula, using a multiple of 6 to determine estimated institutional readership, 2,538 persons represented the readership in 423 institutions.

Playback equipment is also loaned and returned to DBPH by postage-free mail. The FY98 inventory consisted of 9,165 cassette players and 1,312 record players. Of that number, 7,989 cassette players and 1,287 record players were assigned to registered talking book readers.

Patron Contact: DBPH publishes a quarterly newsletter and offers it in braille, large print and on cassette. Patrons have access to a toll-free In-WATS direct line to the library and enjoy free matter mailing privileges for both receiving items from and returning items to the library. Walk-ins (patrons who chose to visit the library in person) receive personal service and are assisted by readers advisors. Children, ages pre-school – twelve may participate in an annual Summer Reading Program.

FY98 In-WATS activity: 15,500 calls for 679 hours of staff time (average per month = 1,292)

FY98 Outgoing calls: 5,160 calls for 226 hours of staff time

FY98 Walk-in patrons: 1,072 (average per month=89)

In appreciation for talking book services, many patrons—as well as family members and friends—make donations to the library. In FY 98, the library received a total of $7,687 in financial contributions (including memorial donations); $2,598 worth of large print titles; a closed circuit television (CCTV) and a magnifying lamp (approximate value of both $1,600).

A web site allows interested persons to obtain information on all aspects of the library's services and provides instant access to an online application. Links are provided to a variety of disability related web sites.

V. LIBRARY MATERIALS

To meet the information needs of both state government and the citizens of South Carolina, the State Library maintains a collection of non-fiction publications on a wide range of topics, such as history, art, applied technology, political science, and the social sciences. The collection also includes audiovisual materials and state and federal documents. The acquisition and organization of library materials is handled by staff of the Technical Services Department. Specific titles which are requested by libraries and by state employees are monitored and often serve as recommendations for purchase. By acquiring, housing, and offering these information materials in one central location, the library attempts to eliminate the need for state agencies to maintain expensive, individual collections. The library's collection also serves to supplement the collections of local public and other libraries which often lack sufficient funds to purchase extensive research materials.

A. Statistical Summary. The book collection is chiefly a one-copy, non-fiction collection, except for South Carolina titles. It includes periodicals and newspapers in both paper and microfilm, and services such as Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC) microfiche. Separate collections include federal and state documents and audiovisual materials. Principal additions during the year are as follows:

All materials are cataloged according to national library cataloging standards. In order to better serve users, the staff acquires and processes additions to the collections efficiently. The Technical Services staff enters the data into the State Library's automated library system and maintains the database.

As a member of Southeastern Library Network, a computerized network of libraries affiliated with the national network, OCLC, Inc., it is possible to add the State Library's holdings to the international network database, thereby enabling greater use through interlibrary loan.

B. Special Collections.

The library maintains a number of special collections which focus on specific topics to support the information needs of South Carolina's citizens. These include:

- 1. Audiovisual Collection A collection of materials in videotape, audiocassette, 16mm film, or slide/tape which focus on specific topics to assist the library's customers. Audiovisual materials to support programs for children in public libraries and to provide information and training in the fields of early childhood education are maintained. Training videos to help state employees improve their job and management skills are purchased and circulated to a wide variety of state agencies. Audiovisual materials which train library staff and librarians are purchased to improve the skills of staff that work in libraries.
- 2. Blind and Physically Handicapped Collection The collection of materials at the Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped numbered 332,168. Volunteer narrators using the custom-designed recording booth and equipment have supplemented the new titles supplied by NLS in addition to the acquisition of volunteer-recorded titles from other libraries.

- 3. ERIC (Educational Resources Information Center) An extensive collection of research publications on educational topics in microfiche format. The library subscribes to the ERIC indexes in CD-ROM and paper to assist library users in locating research reports on topics relating to education and children.
- 4. Government Publications. As a federal documents depository library since 1970, the State Library receives publications in print, microfiche and electronic formats. As the official state documents depository, the State Library has the world's largest collection of South Carolina state government publications.
- 5. Grants Research Collection Includes printed directories and guides and CD-ROM sources to assist nonprofit organizations, government agencies, and citizens in locating grants. The State Library serves as an official cooperating collection of the Foundation Center and compiles and publishes the South Carolina Foundation Directory. The coordinator of this collection makes presentations to organizations and groups on grants research.
- 6. South Carolina Collection Includes published materials dealing with South Carolina subjects. Multiple copies of South Carolina titles are usually purchased to ensure that one copy remains in the library for long-term, historical purposes.
- 7. South Carolina Fiction Cooperative Fiction titles, identified as the "last copy" in a particular library's collection, are cataloged and maintained as part of the State Library's collection to ensure that citizens have access to older novels.

VI. LIBRARY DEVELOPMENT

The State Library provides services to assist with the development and improvement of public library services and state institutional library services throughout the state.

A. Consultant Services. State Library staff provides consultant assistance to library directors, boards of trustees, library staffs, library organizations, and state agencies and institutions. Staff serves as liaison between the State Library and forty county and regional library systems serving all forty-six counties and the thirty-three libraries maintained by seven state agencies. A combination of on-site visits, telephone contacts, and correspondence as well as workshops, small interest group meetings, and information exchanges are used in assisting libraries in identifying their needs and developing strategies to meet these needs.

During FY 98 State Library staff:

- made 2,937 consultations (telephone and personal) with local public library staff
- made 105 field trips to public, state institutional, and other libraries;
- attended 23 public library board meetings;
- administered $4,883,969 in State Aid to County Libraries;
- supervised federal Library Services and Construction Act and Library Services and Technology Act projects providing approximately $815,507 in Title I grants-in-aid to public libraries and $6,310 to state institutional libraries;
- monitored public library budgets totaling almost $49 million in local funds;
- provided construction assistance for 16 library facilities in 15 counties;
- published South Carolina Public Libraries Annual Statistical Summary;
- certified 61 professional and pre-professional public librarians; and
- represented the State Library at local, state, and national conferences, conventions, workshops, professional association meetings, building dedications, and other functions.

B. Grant Administration

1. State Aid to County Libraries. The program of State Aid to county libraries has been funded continuously since 1943. For FY98, the General Assembly appropriated $1.40 per capita with a minimum of $15,000 per county for a total of $4,883,969 to the State Library for distribution to the county libraries. However, State support of county libraries as a percentage of total county library support has steadily declined for more than a decade making it harder for county libraries to meet the informational needs of their citizens. The regulations under which the funds are administered require that participating libraries be legally established, provide countywide service, maintain levels of county funding, and meet certain standards of service. Qualifying libraries may use State Aid funds to supplement staff salaries, to purchase books and audio visual materials, to purchase or lease equipment and computer hardware and software, and to operate and maintain bookmobiles. State Aid's matching and maintenance of effort requirements have encouraged county governments to increase local support for libraries.

2. Federal Aid to South Carolina Libraries. FY 98 was the first year of the Library Services and Technology Act. South Carolina Connects Through Libraries, Five-Year Plan FY 1997 – 2002 under the Library Services and Technology Act (P.L. 104-208) details the account of uses of LSTA.

During FY 98, funds were also available from the Library Services and Construction Act Program as detailed in the State Library's Annual Program, Library Services and Construction Act, 1996-97 and in The South Carolina Program for Library Development 1996-1999. FFY 98 concludes the funding available through LSCA.

a. LSTA Uses:

- (1) (a) establishing or enhancing electronic linkages among or between libraries.
 - (b) electronically linking libraries with educational, social, or information services;
 - (c) assisting libraries in accessing information through electronic networks;
 - (d) encouraging libraries in different areas, and encouraging different types of libraries to establish consortia and share resources;
 - (e) paying cost for libraries to acquire or share computer systems and telecommunications technologies; and
- (2) targeting library and information services to persons having difficulty using a library and to under served urban and rural communities, including children (from birth through age 17) from families with incomes below the poverty line.

Emphasis was placed on expanding citizen access to information through electronic information services for all libraries: public, academic and school, access to library services for children, and staff development and training.

South Carolina's LSTA Goals and Objectives

- I. To provide all South Carolina citizens with access to a wide variety of information.
 - (a) Statewide Database Access Project (DISCUS): Libraries identified online database access as the number one priority for use of LSTA funds. Statewide online database access for South Carolina's citizens became a reality during the year. DISCUS South Carolina's Virtual Library is designed to provide all South Carolinians with access to an electronic library of essential information resources. These resources are available to every citizen of the state, ensuring equity of access regardless of where people live. Libraries and educational institutions across the state serve as the service and delivery point for these electronic resources.
 - (b) The South Carolina Preservation Project: Initiated in January 1998 to educate citizens in the practical care and preservation of the information of the state. This is a cooperative project involving the State Library, the Charleston County Library and Palmetto Archives, Libraries and Museums Council on Preservation (PALMCOP). During the first year of this project, goals and objectives for the project were identified, basic equipment was purchased, and contacts were made with other organizations. Major training activities included workshops for children on the care of books held at two public libraries; assisting with the "Hometown History" workshop presented by the State Library to provide information on collecting, preserving and making accessible local history materials on a limited budget; and providing support and advice on salvaging irreplaceable legal and land records damaged by fire and water when the Allendale County Courthouse burned.
 - (c) Sconnects@the Library: This statewide marketing campaign continued to reinforce the need for marketing library services. A public relations librarians exchange group was established, and a list of PR contacts was developed for each library system. Image audits of libraries were done, and marketing presentations were made to library staff upon request. Plans are underway to host a PR and marketing workshop in February 1999, targeted at small and medium-sized libraries.
- II. To assist public libraries develop programs and services to meet the needs of their patrons.
- (a) Public Library Automation: The South Carolina State Library since 1997 has been involved in a project designed to bring public Internet Access to every public library site in the state. Using federal funding to supplement state appropriations, the library has worked with the Office of Information Resources (OIR) of the South Carolina Budget and Control Board to connect public libraries through the SC telecommunications backbone to the Internet provider under contract to the state.

Federal funds were made available for the purchase of telecommunications hardware, internal wiring, and installation services. Public libraries were responsible for providing a minimum of two public access personal computers at each participating site. OIR worked with local telephone companies to connect each site to the state backbone, and dealt with the state's Internet provider. OIR also provided guidelines for those aspects of the project affected by state legislation. State funds were used to pay for the installation of circuits, and they will continue to cover the cost for ongoing telephone charges and Internet provider fees.

By June 30, 1998, eighteen public libraries provided public access to information through the Internet, and 8 public libraries provided access to the Internet for staff.

- (b) Public Library Support: During FY 98 the South Carolina Public Library Standards, 1998 were printed and distributed to the public library administrators, replacing the 1986 Standards for South Carolina Public Libraries. Libraries are encouraged to use South Carolina Public Library Standards, annual local, regional, and national comparative statistics; and various planning processes to develop services to meet community needs.
- Children and Young Adults: Services to Children and Young Adults continued to be a priority in the FY 98 plan because of the need in South Carolina to improve children's school readiness and achievement. Grants were awarded that helped libraries provide books for babies and information to new parents about reading to children, outreach programming to children in child care settings, and training for child care staff; and to promote community awareness of library services for children. A special grant totaling $186,845 was awarded to provide resource collections for child care teachers in every public library in the state.
- County-wide Access to Library Services: Grants were available for the improvement of public library service to areas where library service is inadequate to meet the needs of the public. Grants were awarded to improve delivery of library materials to remote areas through formal planning, identifying the community library service needs and developing plans for meeting those needs, and through the purchase of bookmobiles to deliver services where needed.

III. To improve library services to all South Carolinians through training of library personnel and to provide for better-informed public library trustees and supporters.

Staff Development and Training

The State Library administers the career education project which provides continuing education opportunities through workshops and training grants for public and institutional library personnel and for public library trustees. The annual CE plan was developed in consultation with the state's public library directors, the State Library Staff, the University of South Carolina College of Library and Information Science, and the South Carolina Library Association. CE statistics for FY98:

- 54 State Library-sponsored workshops for libraries
- 1,169 Participants
- 39 County and Regional libraries sent one or more staff members to workshops
- 7 Training grants $3,271 were awarded to 7 public libraries.

b. LSCA Title II — Public Library Construction

This title provided funds for construction projects which contributed to improved services in the participating county library systems. Relatively small federal construction grants served as a strong incentive for local funding initiatives. During FY 98, construction on the following building process:

Cherokee County Library, Headquarters (under construction)

Chester County Library, Richburg Branch (construction completed)

Chesterfield County Library, Cheraw Branch (construction completed)

Kershaw County Library, Elgin Branch (under construction)

Williamsburg County Library, Headquarters and Hemingway

Branch (under construction)

In FY98, Title II funds expended totalled $388,386.

Though no Federal grant funds were involved, advice, guidance, and assistance were also provided for the following counties with needs assessment, minimum space requirements, written building programs and their review, evaluation of floor plans, and capital fundraising plans:

Dillon (HQ)

McCormick (HQ)

Sumter (HQ)

ABBE (Johnston Branch)

Colleton (HQ)

Orangeburg (branch needs assessment and facilities planning)

Berkeley (HQ)

Marlboro (HQ)

Darlington (Lamar Branch)

The following organization was assisted with the floor plan for a small professional library:

Columbia Museum of Art.

VII. SOUTH CAROLINA LIBRARY NETWORK

The South Carolina Library Network (SCLN), coordinated by the South Carolina State Library, supports the efforts of local libraries to meet the information needs of all South Carolinians through the sharing of library resources. The 228 present SCLN member libraries by type are:

Public libraries	54
Institutional libraries	4
Academic libraries	37
Technical College libraries	16
School libraries	79
Special libraries	38

Fifty-six (56) new school library members were added as part of a special project to extend interlibrary loan services to South Carolina high schools. Libraries participating in the South Carolina Library Network have access to: the LION (Library Information Online) automated catalog of the South Carolina State Library; an electronic mail component for the transmission of interlibrary loan requests; EBBS, an electronic bulletin board service reporting on current library activity in the state; the FEDCAT (Federal Document Catalog) information database which can be used to identify United States documents issued by the Government Printing Office since 1976; and the South Carolina On-line Library Directory, containing entries for more than 500 South Carolina libraries.

For the purposes of obtaining information and materials not available locally, SCLN member libraries have always used their computers to dial into the State Library automated system. Through its membership in MetroNet, the state government telecommunications network coordinated by the Budget and Control Board, the State Library offers access to its resources through the Internet as well.

Network Services conducted 27 SCLN training and technical support sessions during 1997-98. Network staff also participated in a variety of educational activities designed to support and improve reference service across the state. For public libraries serving the largest metropolitan areas in the state, the State Library organized an eighth annual Reference Exchange in August 1997. This meeting brought together reference librarians from Charleston, Greenville, Richland and Spartanburg County Libraries for a discussion of mutual concerns in the areas of public service and electronic reference. Reference Basics workshops were presented for the Charleston and Dorchester County Libraries. In January 1998, a System Managers Exchange was held for library automation system managers from SC public libraries to discuss planning for technology development and other issues of common interest.

Network Services provided continuing support for an Internet/Telecommunications Project intended to strengthen the resources of South Carolina public libraries through public access to the Internet. The State Library cooperated with the Office of Information Resources (OIR) to provide Internet access in these libraries to South Carolina students as an extension of provisions of a statewide K-12 Internet initiative. Network Services staff made site visits to public library systems and provided in-house consultation for the project. The State Library made use of federal grant funds to assist in the purchase of essential telecommunications equipment by libraries. By June 1998, more than half of the public library systems in the state were offering public access to the Internet.

Public libraries were encouraged to obtain discounts on telecommunications services and equipment for which they became eligible in 1998. Information on the Universal Service Fund (E-Rate), including a Web page for SC libraries, and application support were provided by the State Library. All SC public libraries were required to submit a technology plan to support the state's application for a discount on the cost of the statewide Internet project.

The State Library initiated a Preservation Information Project in January of 1998 to assist South Carolina libraries in maintaining one of their most valuable assets - their collections of books and other materials. The project consultant is based at the Charleston County Public Library, which is cooperating in the project. The first months of the project were spent in planning, purchasing specialized equipment using federal funds, making contacts with libraries and preservation organizations, and in presenting 5 workshops or demonstrations on the care and handling of library materials.

VIII. PUBLIC INFORMATION SERVICES

The State Library's public information service is responsible for a statewide program of publicity and public relations designed to publicize South Carolina libraries and to make the general public aware of library services. Activities include news releases, exhibits, special programs and publications. The State Library's public relations activities are planned and coordinated by the director of public information and the public relations committee.

Major activities include:

- News for SC Libraries a newsletter distributed six times a year to all libraries in South Carolina the to library trustees.
- Published one children's booklist, "I Can Read It Myself." These were distributed to the libraries.
- Updated the "African American Bibliography" for distribution to libraries and other interested organizations.
- · Worked with Friends of South Carolina Libraries on their newsletter, annual program and other projects as needed.
- Held three public relations librarian exchanges for public relations staff of the public libraries.
- Began the first year of the "SConnects @ the Library" marketing campaign. Four sessions were held statewide to distribute the marketing manual and materials. Sent quarterly marketing information to libraries to assist them in marketing their libraries and services. A marketing and public relations article was included in each News for SC Libraries newsletter.
- News releases and other marketing materials were distributed to the media and libraries to promote such programs as summer reading, National Library Week, Freedom of Information day and others.
- Provided consulting services to libraries as needed.

In a continuing effort to attract more patrons and educate the general public about the library's unique resources for South Carolinians with disabilities, services of the Department for the Blind and Physically Handicapped were exhibited and promoted at 37 events across the state. Professional events included: Annual Conferences of the South Carolina Optometric Association, the National Association of Social Workers, the South Carolina Association of School Librarians and the Minority Health Issues Conference.

Community events included: The South Carolina State Fair, Black Expo 98 and A Grand Affair: A Celebration of Life After 55 (an annual event that attracts thousands of seniors from across the state).

SConnects @ the Library*

Purpose

SConnects@the Library is a three-year marketing campaign begun in FY 1998 to inform South Carolinians of the wealth of resources available in their public libraries and to encourage use of these resource.

SConnects @ the Library focuses on three areas:

- 1. General information for the public
- 2. Internet Access
- 3. DISCUS statewide database project

In addition to promoting library services, the SConnects project coincides with the public library Internet connectivity project which provides public access Internet workstations in all public library locations in South Carolina.

Web Site

To support providing general information to the public, the South Carolina State Library created a Web Site to assist South Carolina public librarians in providing useful Internet links for their patrons. The web site "SConnects @ the Library" is available for public library systems to set as their primary home page if they so choose. Initiated in August 1997, the home page includes selected links to informational web sites in topical areas such as education, business, government and general reference. A Kid's Page is also available. The web site's address is http://www.state.sc.us/scsl/sconnect.html

FY 1998 web site usage:

Total hits to the main SConnects page: 223604
Total hits to the main kid's page: 23593
Total hits to the kid's summer reading web page: 2342
Total hits to the entire web site and related pages: 346837

In September 1998, a web-based survey was conducted to evaluate and improve the web site for its primary users. As a result of the survey, many suggestions for links and information were added to the web site.

^{*} SConnects is pronounced SC Connects.

Marketing Campaign

A marketing manual with ideas and tips on how to incorporate the SConnects theme and logo was distributed during the fall. The manual offers sample program ideas, information on how to write news releases and get publicity and other resources available to libraries.

Support materials are available and include stickers, clear labels for library computer workstations and mouse pads. Additional materials are added each year to help support the libraries in their marketing efforts for "SConnects @ the Library."

Updates, new ideas and additional resources will be sent to libraries periodically over the project's time frame.

IX. VOLUNTEER PROGRAM

Volunteers have made a positive impact on the South Carolina State Library and particularly the Department for the Blind and Physically Handicapped (DBPH) where 54 volunteers contributed 2,444 hours of service. Members of boards, committees and advisory councils represent user groups and aid in the development of policies and services.

Under the guidance of the Volunteer Coordinator, narrators recorded books and magazines about South Carolina. Narrators skillfully recorded issues of "South Carolina Wildlife" and "Sandlapper" magazines, the department's newsletter and the Disability Action Center's newsletter. Four books were recorded and added to the South Carolina Collection: "Final Curtain," "A New Life in Christ," "A Short History of Charleston", and "Mrs. Whaley and Her Charleston Garden."

During the past year, the Telephone Pioneer repair group received training on updated NLS equipment repair standards. They repaired 691 cassette machines and record players. Because of their work and a large inventory of working cassette machines, South Carolina was able to transfer a portion of our inventory to other states that were in need of equipment.

Other individuals were trained as book inspectors, receptionists, and clerical assistants. Book inspection volunteers have helped DBPH maintain its goal of 100% book inspection. Receptionists answered the telephone, assisted visitors, and prepared bulk mailings for the Summer Reading program, prepared newsletters and overdue book notices for mailing and weeded application files to remove inactive patron records. Volunteers from the Retired and Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) also provided some much needed assistance with many of these 4 projects. Public relations efforts received a boost from volunteers who labeled thousands of promotional brochures and staffed exhibit booths at two events that reached thousands of adults age 55 and over.

To aid with volunteer recruitment, a section on volunteer opportunities was added to the library's web site.

During FY 98, 61 individuals contributed 2,508 hours of service as shown below:
